DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

This Office Action is in response to the Preliminary Amendment filed on July 9, 2003.

Accordingly, claims 6-10 and 12-26 were cancelled.

Currently, claims 1-5 and 11 are pending in the application.

Specification

The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

The following title is suggested: METHOD OF DIFFUSING METALS USING PHOTO-THERMAL ENERGY.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Objections

Claims 3 and 4 are objected to because of the following informalities:

Re claim 3, line 3, "the first layer" should be --the layer of first material--.

Re claim 4, line 2, "the metal trace" should be --the electrically conductive trace--.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being by Mori et al. (US 5,821,627), submitted in previous IDS.

Re claim 1, Mori et al. discloses a method comprising: applying photo-thermal energy to a layer of first material (tin) disposed on a layer of second material (copper) to diffuse a portion of the first material into the second material (see col. 9, lines 5-21 and col. 10, lines 45-64).

Re claim 2, Mori et al. discloses the photo-thermal energy is provided by infrared radiation and laser beam (see col. 16, line 20-30 and col. 25, line 49-56).

Re claim 3, Mori et al. discloses the second material includes a metal (copper), and the photo-thermal energy penetrates at least into the layer of first material (tin) such that the diffusing forms an electrically conductive trace (see col. 9, lines 5-21).

Re claim 4, Mori et al. discloses the first material includes tin, the second material includes copper, and the metal trace includes a copper tin alloy (see col. 10, lines 45-64).

Re claim 11, see discussion above regarding claim 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.

Art Unit: 2822

2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mori et al..

Re claim 5, Mori et al. discloses the process steps and elements previously as described, but fails to show the laser beam having a width between about 2 mils and about 8 mils.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ a laser beam having the width as claimed, since it has been held that where the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, discovering the optimum or working ranges involves only routine skill in the art. In re Aller, 220 F.2d 454, 456, 105 USPQ 233, 235 (CCPA 1955).

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

See Notice of References Cited for relevant teachings related to the instant invention.
